

Flag days:

6 June is Swedish Flag Day and now National Day. In 1523 Gustav Vasa was elected king and we left the Kalmar Union and Sweden became independent again. In 1809, the Riksdag signed the form of government that laid the foundation for modern Sweden and divided power between the king, the council (government) and the Riksdag.

8 June is Pentecost Day, which is always celebrated 50 days after Easter. According to the Bible, the Holy Spirit fell on the Apostles and after this they spread across the world and started missionary work.

21 June is Midsummer's Day and has an ancient and pagan basis in celebrating light, vegetation and warmth. With the arrival of Christianity, the festivities were retained and the birthday of St John the Baptist is now also celebrated.

Residents:

The Talgoxes were short of accommodation and moved into a...
They have now left home and the ashtray will be welded shut so that birds do not move in. Instead, we will buy birdhouses and my hope is that we will decorate these together.

Bees are dying:

There have been many reports of how many bee colonies have disappeared and after the winter only empty hives were found. Experts believe it is mites that have hit hard and killed lots of bees. This will affect pollination and the only thing we can do is to make it easier for insects. Make sure they can drink (it works in our fountains) but also wild grass and insect hotels are doing bees and insects a favour.

Activities:

Rumour has it that a 'pokemon hunt' is about to start every weekend. A fun activity for both children and adults. Keep an eye out for information in the stairwells.

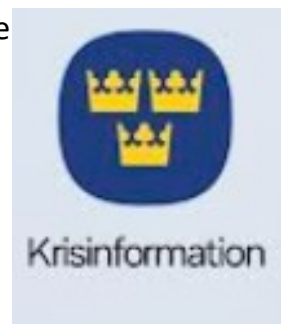

The barbecue will start again and it is up to everyone to start the barbecue. The barbecue equipment and a rubbish bin are kept in the pram store, Larmv. 12 b. Tell your neighbours, post on Facebook or put up notices on the stairs. Then the board keeps charcoal and lighter fluid and you are welcome to borrow what is in the carriage.

At Larmv. 2-4, you have put out some flowers yourself when you thought the flowerbed was too boring. As long as you don't put in invasive species, I don't think anyone will object to us tidying up the flower beds.

Tip of the month:

Now that the barbecue season is starting, I would like to recommend the "Crisis information" is published by MSB and lists, among other things, where it is allowed to burn and if there is a ban on irrigation. In addition, you activate which regions you are interested in and receive VMA for these regions. If you want to prepare for a crisis, there are many risks to prevent. By the way, did you know that in case of major event, the telephone number 113 13 is activated and you can call it to get information about the event in question.

Pergola:

I keep hearing about how much mischief there is in our pergolas and how they do drugs and make a fuss. We (Kristian, me and King) often go to the courtyards in the evening to see what's going on and are surprised at how nice young people we meet. A group was sitting in the 8th floor pergola this week and when I roll over they ask if it's okay to sit there. We talk for a while and I am now invited to both Sundspärlan and Yoggiboost where two of them work this summer. Since I can't yet pick up after the dog, one of them offers to clean up after King.

I apologise to those who do not dare to talk to the young people as they are very nice and I apologise for the fear that I understand some people feel. My best advice is to go out with a bottle or can and ask for help to open it. If you start a conversation with "Hello" and "Thank you", that's a good start. The way you behave is the way you are usually treated.

The Board will inform you:

We have replaced all the fire extinguishers in our garages, overnight apartment and party room so they comply with current legal requirements. We have also taken out a subscription for regular service of these extinguishers.

We have spoken to the company that programmes our alarm controls for the garage. In future, when entering, only the gate that is "on your side" of the garage will be able to be opened from the outside.

New rules of behaviour have been developed and all members have now received a copy in their mailbox. These rules will of course also be available on our website.

The lift at Larmvägen 2 will be repaired starting on 10 June. Remember that during this time you can get help from the municipality, for example with shopping for groceries or washing clothes. Contact the municipality on 042-105000.

Thanks to a brilliant suggestion from a resident, we will be putting chairs on each floor to make the stairs easier to climb.

The Board will now officially go on holiday. This means that we will not be seen in the open office but we are on the mail. Hopefully we will also be seen in the courtyard and at the barbecue.
